

Podcast

When We are Up against a Red Sea—Come Follow Me Old Testament Podcast #15, Exodus 14-17

By Scot and Maurine Proctor · March 31, 2022

Why are the Children of Israel continually complaining and murmuring against Moses? Though they've seen the miracles that brought them out of Egypt, and then watched the Red Sea part so they could cross on dry ground, they still say: "Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger." Jeffrey M. Bradshaw, well-known for his extensive commentaries on the Book of Moses and Genesis, joins Scot and Maurine Proctor today to talk about strength or fear, firm or wavering in the face of our personal Red Seas.

Meridian Magazine Podcast

Come Follow Me OT Podcast 15, "When We are Up against a Red Sea," -- E

Share

Privacy policy

Meridian Magazine Podcast · Come Follow Me OT Podcast 15, "When We are Up against a Red Sea," — Exodus 14-17

INSPIRATION FOR LIVING A LATTER-DAY SAINT LIFE

Daily news, articles, videos and podcasts sent straight to your inbox.

Name

First Name

Last Name

Email *

I agree and consent to Meridian Magazine's privacy policy.

CAPTCHA

I'm not a robot

reCAPTCHA
Privacy - Terms

Submit